What’s the Career Demand?
Employment of security guards is projected to grow 19 percent from 2010 to 2020. Crime, vandalism and terrorism concerns continue to increase the demand for security. Employment opportunities span across the growing sectors of private security, TSA screening and gaming surveillance. Related experience and computer and technology skills can improve job prospects.

Your local market data likely differs from these federal statistics.

Your own hard work, professionalism, experience, work attitude, local market and other factors will impact your personal employment opportunities and pay.

This program does not lead to employment with the United States Department of Homeland Security which typically requires a Bachelor’s degree.
